Letters to the Editor

What's YOUR Pet Phone Pest?

To Help Labor Question

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Permit me to congratulate your paper on the excellent editorial printed in this issue, and particularly the article headed "A Card Index Won't Do It."

The Arbutuck Case

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Permit me to express my intense appreciation for the article in your issue headed "Fatty Out on Bail."

Against the Third Degree

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—I have made considerable study of the using of the third degree against those accused, and I believe it is wrong.

Your Neighbor's Phone Pest

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—I think the greatest of all phone pests is the one who will call up your neighbor when you have no phone, and run over to call you, when the caller should have sense enough to call a public station and have the message delivered.

The Frivolous Pest

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—I have read with interest your article on the telephone pests, and I am sure there are many persons who could write some interesting experience if they had time to do so.

Common Sense Is Needed

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Every American seems thoroughly possessed by an insidious desire to ostracize and a lot of it to do as little as possible for it.

He Discovers Brains

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—I have at last learned that there are some girls who read books. It certainly would be the happiest moment of my humble existence to meet such a girl.

The Rude and Fresh Pests

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—I earnestly thank you for your recent editorial against the telephone discourse, at least, out of Philadelphia, and I do not doubt elsewhere.

Ex-Soldiers and Australia

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Are ex-soldiers being sent to Australia as colonists at the expense of the Government?

Questions Answered

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—I could repeat many instances equally distressing, but I shall not take your valuable space.

Nationality of "Julio"

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—What is the name and nationality of the man who plays the part of Julio in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse?"

Who Said It?

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Who was it that said "Put your faith in God and keep your powder dry?"

Pins Against Postoffice Rules

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Please state in your People's Forum whether papers pinned together can be sent through the mails.

Where "Cobweb" Appears

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—In which one of Shakespeare's plays does the character "Cobweb" appear?

First Buffalo Nickels

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—When were the first buffalo nickels issued? When and why was the die changed in these first nickels?

Poems and Songs Desired

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—"Black Camel Death"—I should like the poem which contains these lines: "The Black Camel Death kneels once at each door."

Women's Dress

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Let me state that women's dress and personal appearance have always been a subject of comment since the days of Eve.

"They Are Slaves"

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—I will appreciate it if you will print these few lines of poetry and ask if any of your readers can send in the balance of it.

The Three Gates of Silence

Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:—Can you tell me where to find the little poem entitled "The Three Gates of Silence?"

THE THREE GATES OF SILENCE

If you are tempted to reveal, A tale some one has told, About another, make it pass, Before you speak, three gates of silence.

Everyone knows the danger but—do you get the right protection? EIGHTY million Americans wearing them today! 79 out of every hundred men and women have learned the dangers of wearing them. The rubber heels made in this country alone last year would reach—if you put them a step apart—six times around the world.
